

• Supervising Special Educators: What Administrators Need to Know •

Presenters: Jennifer Patenaude and Andrea Wasson

Administrators are often required to supervise and evaluate special education teachers. This can be challenging when the administrator does not have a special education background. This workshop is designed to offer suggestions for meaningful assessment of special education teachers. Tips for identifying indicators of effective meeting facilitation, adherence to special education procedural regulations, delivery of high quality specialized instruction, and correct, compliant documentation will be topics that will be addressed throughout the day.
